No Experience Required

with Geeta Vallecha, RYT

Some benefits of Yin Yoga:

- Balances internal organs
- Increases joint mobility
- Releases fascia
- Lowers stress.

★ The significance of the numbers "108" is open to interpretation but has long been considered a sacred number in yoga ... as a number of the wholeness of existence. This number also connects the Sun, Moon, and Earth.

This workshop is designed to open and stabilize hips, pelvis and lower spine for better balance and will be followed by a loving and nourishing restorative yoga sequence to bring back the balance to the nervous system. Yin Yoga advocates stressing connective tissue (the fascia, tendons and ligaments) using long holds and reasonable traction. Connective tissues are different from muscles and need to be exercised differently. Restorative Yoga is simple, supported poses combined with breathing exercises work to help heal the chronic stress. Overall a very simple and effective sequence, combined with breath work, will be offered to recreate the space, physically and emotionally, within the joints where most tension is stored. This workshop is appropriate for beginners as well as the well-seasoned Yogi.
